Available in Italian and German

I tell about a journey from Saint-Jean-Pied-de-Port in France to Santiago de Compostela to the apostle Jacobus's grave.

I tell about a love that is too big to find words for. About a journey that brought me physically and mentally to my limits which was important and right for me. A journey that restored my faith in spirituality and the belief in fate and a superior being .

Maria Magdalena

About life and death of my sister

232 pages

hardback with book jacket

22,-€

Available in German

How do you tell a story about a woman not much different as millions of them?

I want to tell the story of my twin sister Maria Magdalena from the beginning on. I want to write about a woman that lost her life in a barbaric and unnecessary way. I want to come close to the truth of what happened. I want to give companions a voice and let them share their personal stories. I want to say goodbye.

Where Heaven begins

The life of the Niederbacher siblings

144 pages

hardback

39,99€

Life is a continuation of actions, some of them good, some less good. Happy and sometimes sad ones.

The life of a family, or in this case of siblings, reveals a conglomerate of pictures, colours and emotions.

This book tells the story of the Niederbacher siblings from the South Tyrolean Alps, their career with their incomparable music, allows glimpses into their private lives and lets companions share their stories with the Niederbacher siblings.
